Welcome! Doug's Guide to the Galaxy aims to help create space to help centralize information and provide a place where we can create a company navigation pane to direct unicorns to useful information that may be stored on Google Drive and in other locations.

For Best Practices on how to use Coda, please refer to  Coda Best Practices page.

Handbook Introduction

 Maggie Lyon |  Courtney Barno

Organizations naturally establish some norms and behaviors that relate to their Core Values and Principles as they find ways of working together. These behaviors likely evolve over time with the organization itself and should be curated and updated. We'll use this handbook as the primary resource for sharing these behaviors, best practices, and exemplifications of our Core Values and Principles!

If you'd like to contribute, check out the Contributing Guide for details as well as the Coda Do's and Don'ts found here.

Goal

Doug's Guide to the Galaxy aims to help create space to help centralize information and provide a place where we can create a company navigation pane to direct unicorns to useful information. This is a launching point for all information discovery for everything internal at Defense Unicorns.
